SURYA SEGARA RUPA

"Surya Segara Rupa" is the theme of an exhibition initiated by the Fine Art Study Program of the Indonesian Institute of the Arts Indonesia Denpasar, located at Santrian Gallery, Sanur, Bali, which opened on November 17, 2023. This exhibition theme has a significant meaning and connection to the background of the big theme designed by the Bali Provincial Government which is contained in the Bali Arts Festival in 2023. The word "Surya" refers to the Sanskrit and Balinese word for the sun. Various cultures around the world regard the sun as a symbol of life, warmth and energy. The sun also plays an important role in the mythology, religion, iconography and beliefs of many ethnic societies in the world. The word "Segara" in Indonesian is the equivalent of the English word sea or ocean. The sea or ocean is often associated with sustainability, abundance, and the mysterious, infinite beauty of nature. In Bali it is known as segara without edge. The word "Rupa" can be translated as "form" or "shape." In the context of this Fine Art exhibition, "rupa" can refer to the visual appearance or expression of an object or visual idea. Thus, "Surya Segara Rupa" is an exhibition theme focusing on the incorporation of concepts related to the sun, the sea, and visual form in the context of art or creative expression from ISI Denpasar artists. The exhibition seeks to explore the meanings associated with the sun, sea, or other elements of nature, and how they can be expressed in works of art.

Surya Segara Rupa is a Tribute to Nature and Culture Bali is known for its rich culture and close relationship with nature. This theme can describe an effort to honor and dig deeper into how the sun, sea, and nature in general influence Balinese life, art, and culture. Visual and Creative Exploration of Fine Art Study Program ISI Denpasar wants to encourage artists to explore various ways of interpreting the sun, sea, and visual forms in artworks. This can be a platform to explore diverse art techniques. This exhibition conveys important messages about the preservation of natural resources and respect for the sun and sea related to ecosystem awareness, life, rituals, and spirituality.

Rector of Indonesian Institute of the Arts Denpasar

Om Swastyastu,
Assalammuualaikum Warahmatulahi Wabarrakatuh,
Peace be upon you,
Salom,
Namo Budaya,
Rahayu.

Greetings Indonesia Maju, may all be in good health and happiness.

Puji pangastuti angayubagia is offered to Hyang Widhi Wasa / God Almighty for His grace the exhibition entitled "Surya Segara Rupa" can be carried out according to plan. This exhibition is one of the events to strengthen the innovation and creativity of Tri Dharma Intitut Seni Indonesia (ISI) Denpasar. The strategic actualization pattern is carried out with a publication structuring policy whose content is quality and substantive; socialization is oriented towards mainstreaming performance achievements in strengthening and promoting education, research, and community service both independently and in partnership. Strategic actualization is also built by redefining the ISI Denpasar motto, namely: Global-Bali Arts and Creativity Center Hub (G-BACCH).

This exhibition is a space for disseminating various works of art created by lecturers and several international artists. As the Rector of Institut Seni Indonesia Denpasar, I proudly welcome this exhibition which is a high artistic achievement and full of deep philosophical meaning. The artwork "Surya Segara Rupa" reflects the cultural richness that is closely related to the sun and the sea. This phenomenon is a reminder of the importance of preserving nature and environmental sustainability for future generations. The exhibition concept also illustrates the deep connection between humans and nature, and invites us to reflect on the cycle of life and human dependence on nature. Through diverse fine art techniques, the works combine visual beauty with the inspiring dynamics of marine life.

I would like to congratulate and thank the artists for their participation and artistic achievements and hope that these works will continue to inspire the public. Before closing this speech, let me on behalf of the leadership of ISI Denpasar thank the entire committee and all those who have supported in organizing this exhibition.

Dean of the Faculty of Fine Art and Design of ISI Denpasar

Om Swastyastu,
Greetings Indonesia Jaya

Praise to Ida Sang Hyang Widhi Wasa - God Almighty, for His grace in organizing the "Surya Segara Rupa" exhibition by raising the potential of the Fine Arts Study Program from active lecturers, retired lecturers and artists from various corners as a form of a sense of togetherness can be carried out as planned.

I am proud and welcome it as an effort to encourage artistic creativity. The fine art exhibition is essentially one of the most strategic platforms for lecturers and education staff to pour their imagination into the form of artworks which in turn are able to provide new perspectives by expanding horizons through fine art media. In addition, this exhibition is a moment of self-correction and the beginning of an effort to move forward and as a commitment in organizing and implementing ideal education both in the form of creation and study of art that is in harmony with the development of science, technology and art with the nation's cultural values.

Through collaboration between artists outside the ISI Denpasar campus, there is also collaboration with artists from abroad which is a true manifestation of the implementation of the Tri Dharma of Higher Education which includes guidance and development of artistic insights in the campus environment and the general public and participating in developing creative and innovative human resources. This activity is also an effort to measure the level of public appreciation of the field of pure art knowledge and its works. Therefore, this exhibition program can be used as an effective instrument to measure the level of success of art higher education institutions in carrying out teaching and learning activities.

Finally, I congratulate everyone for organizing this exhibition, I hope that the artworks on display have the potential to become an academic, artistic, and cultural discourse. I hope this kind of activity can be carried out on an ongoing basis.

Coordinator of Fine Art Study Program FSRD ISI Denpasar

Om Swastyastu,
Greetings Indonesia Jaya

With all gratitude, the Fine Arts Study Program of FSRD ISI Denpasar this year held an exhibition with Surya Segara. This exhibition has an important meaning, because it aims to present the diversity of educational achievements. This exhibition is also a place to prove that ISI Denpasar teaching lecturers not only have academic teaching competence but are also 'artists' who are able to produce quality artistic creations. The lecturers with the spirit of puputan educate students to become a line of dynamic and creative new artists.

Academic artists have the burden of purely academic works of art and are therefore academically responsible for them. This responsibility can be demonstrated through their artistic attitude, commitment, integrity and ability to engage in the development of artistic discourse. Lecturers as academic artists should not only dwell in the area of creation without taking part in the development of the discourse of creation, how to develop and then build strategies.

The exhibition becomes important if it is placed in the framework of evaluation, because all parties become aware and at least have the opportunity to confirm that the practice of fine arts as part of the Tri Dharma of Higher Education will not stop here, as well as the accompanying discourse will continue to be explored, and increasingly enlightening for the wider audience.

On this occasion I would like to express my deepest gratitude to Prof. Dr. I Wayan Adnyana, S.Sn., M.Sn as the Rector of ISI Denpasar who is willing to give a speech. Also infinite gratitude to Mr. Dr. A.A Gde Bagus Udayana, S.Sn., M.Si as Dean of FSRD ISI Denpasar, to Ida Bagus Sidharta, MBA as Owner of Santrian Sanur Gallery which has provided dissemination space, ....Art Management who faithfully accompanies the committee to always show their best performance. To the lecturers of Pure Art Study Program and other participants. The steering committee and organizing committee.

We believe that this exhibition as one of the vehicles in continuing the development of fine arts, will bring the good name of ISI Denpasar in the national and international arena. For this reason, suggestions and constructive criticism from all parties are very much expected, so that we can realize our joint efforts to advance fine art.

Santrian Art Gallery

Going through uncertain times for almost three years of the Covid - 19 pandemic is an extraordinary gift for Santrian Gallery Sanur. This space is always present to accommodate the creativity of artists who are never timid, at a time of social restrictions that require everyone to stay in their respective homes, but the creativity of creating art is never extinguished. Artists in their homes and all the limitations that exist still pour their imagination into their works. Not surprisingly, many works with strong aesthetic value and content were born as a result of the artist's deep appreciation.

The creative power is what makes this space stand strong even in critical conditions, togetherness in aesthetics makes everything always beautiful. This togetherness began in 2000, meaning that it has now entered its third decade, hundreds of exhibitions have been held involving various artists, ranging from solo, group or joint exhibitions. A gallery is certainly not merely a venue for the creative work of artists, in which there is interaction and appreciation between artists, their work with a wide audience not only local, national and also involving international audiences. Considering the gallery's position within Griya Santrian resort, which already has an international membership that regularly visits and stays here every year.

We realize the importance of the presence of the gallery also as a space for art education to the community, as the exhibition collaboration with the Fine Arts Study Program FSRD ISI Denpasar which was held on this occasion. The International Fine Art Exhibition entitled "Surya Segara Rupa" involves national artists and art educators as well as invited artists from other countries. Through this exhibition we will witness works with artistic and aesthetic achievements of artists who absorb the warmth of creative energy that flows like an infinite sagara tirta.

Hopefully, this auspicious occasion can be an occasion for us to always mulat sasira, facing the development of a world that is increasingly full of challenges politically, socially and especially ecological threats that are increasingly uncertain due to the warming of the earth. May the energy of creativity always be able to wash us with the freshness of works, which are based on creation and love.

Head of the Committee

Om Swastyastu,
Greetings Indonesia...Rahayu.

Praise our gratitude to Ida Hyang Parama Kawi / God Almighty, for His grace the exhibition entitled Surya Segara Rupa can be carried out as planned.

On this good occasion we can say that since the establishment of the Pure Art Study Program as one of the study programs at the Faculty of Fine Arts and Design (FSRD), Institut Seni Indonesia (ISI) Denpasar, the exhibition has been made a routine program that is held once a year.

The goal is to maintain the continuity of aesthetic expression through works of art in order to improve the quality of taste sensitivity and responsiveness to changes that occur due to unstoppable technological advances, which require rapid responsiveness as well. This is important, because it will have an impact on the methods and patterns of development of art education and other fields of science.

The fine art exhibition held by the Fine Arts Study Program this time has an international standard, in addition to involving three well-known art universities in Indonesia such as ISI Yogyakarta, FSRD ITB-Bandung and IKJ, also inviting several foreign artists, among others: Germany, Amsterdam, Rio de Janeiro (Brazil), Hungary, and Japan. The presence of foreign artists in this exhibition is expected to open up insights, at least as a comparison to increase the creativity and creation of Indonesian artists, both academic and non-academic.

On this occasion, I would like to express my gratitude to the Rector of ISI Bali for his support, Mr. Ida Bagus Gede Sidharta as owner of Griya Santrian Gallery, Mr. Dolar Astawa, manager of Santrian Gallery, Dean of ISI Bali, Coordinator of the Fine Arts study program, lecturers, and staff. Gratitude is also expressed to the extended family of the Fine Arts Study Program for the spirit of mutual cooperation and related parties whose names we cannot mention one by one, so that this exhibition agenda is carried out well and smoothly. Thus our remarks, if there are things that are not pleasing, please understand and forgive. May God always bestow His grace upon us all.

Warih Wisatsana

Throughout 2023, not a few art events, festivals or art exhibitions carried the theme of Segara (Ocean). However, the international event held by the Fine Arts Study Program, Faculty of Art and Design ISI Denpasar, was able to present two-dimensional and three-dimensional works in a creative exploration that offered various possibilities.

The Samudra theme proved to be not a limitation, but an opportunity for these cross-national artists to retrace their aesthetic-stylistic achievements while exploring the Bahari in an imaginative way. Works that broadly express Segara through various forms - and their layers of meaning - follow visual tendencies that are denotative, connotative and symbolic.

The Surya Segara Rupa exhibition was attended by 34 artists, 6 of whom were from overseas, namely Japan, Hungary, Brazil, the Netherlands, and 2 from Germany. The artists from Indonesia came from various regions in the country, including: Bandung, Jakarta, Jepara, Yogyakarta and Bali. Most of these artists have a background in fine arts education and serve as teachers at art colleges.

It should also be mentioned at this stage that the three visual tendencies (denotative, connotative, and symbolic) also appear in the work in the form of a mix or intertwining of forms that allows the philosophical values contained in the thematic (Segara) to be reflected. Or Samudra in a literal (denotative) view evokes a view and reflection precisely because the composition of the object implies a call for social awareness or concern.

This international exhibition presents works with various perspectives; from realist sea forms with waves, sand, and coastal scenery; to colorful abstractions that remind us of the real and symbolic world around Samudra. Many works combine realistic and impersonalistic visuals in a specific symbolic context, suggesting an imaginative world; a mix of Sekala and Niskala.

Segara (Samudra) permeates some of the works in a connotative and symbolic manner where the creative orientation of the creators shows their experience and deep understanding of the iconography of past cultural traditions and artifacts. Their works with various abstractions or selected objects that refer to traditional iconography; created with a personalized creative approach.

Segara Rupa

When compared to the exhibition also held by the Fine Arts Study Program FSRD ISI Denpasar in 2019, this exhibition presents a variety of forms that are more associative and imaginative. Evocative of the view and inviting contemplation, as if we were absorbing the endless expanse of the ocean; with its waves that flow silently.

A more denotative view of the sea and everyday life can be seen in I Wayan Kondra's "Spirit Ngiring Melasti" and Anna Sungkar's "Keluarga Pemulung". Both works imply a social message and a reflection on the importance of maintaining a common life as a communal social being.

It can be said that most of the works in Surya Segara Rupa's exhibition present Samudra or Segara in an abstraction style with a scattering of selected colors, along with minimalist objects, reminiscent of everyday beach scenes with puddles or impressions of sunrise and sunset light. See the works of I Wayan Karja (Surya Segara Rupa), I Wayan Gulendra (Manik Garbha Segara), I Made Hendra Mahajaya Pramayasa (Ragam Biota Laut), I Wayan Mudana (Telur Segara (Bibit Kehidupan)), Claudia De Britto Pereira Simões (The King Star And His Beloved Moon), I Ketut Mustika (Tridharmika Rupa), Gede Yosef Tjokropramono (Penjarahan Ikan), Ni Made Purnami Utami (Senja (Titik Akhir)), A. A. Gde Trisna Suryadinata T.Y. (Dinamika Gerak), Eszter Tari (Projection II), I Made Ruta (Blue Overlay), I Wayan Sujana Suklu (Ninth Dimension), Sri Supriyatini (Agung).

Still faithful to his abstraction, I Wayan Karja through his work titled "Surya Segara Rupa" processes layers of colors and unfolds a landscape that takes our imagination to the beach. The layered colors are rich in meditative nuances and reflect a world beyond the visible; where the clarity of sunlight and the ripples of waves express life force and hope. I Wayan Karja's works can be compared to Claudia de Britto Pereira Simões (The King Star And His Beloved Moon). Through the abstraction of her chosen colors, the Brazilian artist unfolds layer upon layer of sunlight in a cluster of suggestive colors. Presenting an object that is far from literal, but rather an inner world engulfed by the beauty and majesty of the universe's creation. These two works not only present a variety of abstractions but also a connotative and near-symbolic imagined world, a link between Bhuana Alit (microcosm) and Bhuana Agung (macrocosm).

Some works depart from the attempt to address traditional iconographic elements with personal stylistics-aesthetics. The works are created with abstractionist or impressionistic styles, but the object of choice can be traced back to mythological stories, or the Ramayana/Mahabaratha narratives and their derivative plays. For example, the works of I Nengah Wirakesuma (Puser Bumi), I Wayan Setem (Gelombang Lautan Susu), I Wayan Gunawan (Ulun Danu), Suwarno Wisetrotomo (Gandrung Gandring: Sadumuk Bathuk Sanyari Bumi), I Made Bendi Yudha (The Power of Octopus), I Made Yasana (Kekuatan Dewa Siwa Memusnahkan yang Tidak Berguna di Dunia), Tjokorda Udiana Nindhia Pelayun (Dalem Segara Hening), I Ketut Mustika (Tridharmika Rupa), I Dewa Putu Gede Budiarta (Kekuatan Dewi Dewi) Nano Warsono (Lost in The Microcosm), Luh Budiaprilliana (A Door to Inner Child Ocean).

With the language of art, these artists mostly utilize iconography that is revised or processed as an achievement of innovation to express certain impressions and messages. These works are in fact contextualized with the socio-cultural transformation of the local community that they personally experience. Symbols or signifiers that refer to traditional iconography or past cultural artifacts are created through design-figurations or figure-less impressionistic styles.

Rupa Semesta

Through three-dimensional and two-dimensional works, or a combination of both, the existence of Segara or Samudra is no longer entirely connotative or symbolic. Rather, it suggests Rupa Semesta as presented by Wayan Kun Adnyana's Enigmatic Earth, an attempt to explore and understand the enigmatic Earth, like an infinite universe. Like the bottomless depths of the ocean, it invites thoughts and dreams about the mysteries that encompass the life and existence of this universe. Every form or shape that emerges from such creative endeavors is the result of the confluence of sensory experience and the overflow of the subconscious world.

Sculptor Keiji Ujiie (Japan) through his work titled Sun Over The Sea and Franziska Seifert (Germany) with her work Ibu Topeng, each process the media/medium of choice into a form of expression with an authentic aesthetic-stylistic. Stone in the hands of Keiji Ujiie is processed with a personal touch that is not only symbolic or metaphorical. It impresses us with its unique shape and composition, instantly opening a blank space of imagination; as if the viewer is in the expanse of the sea of life. Similarly, Franziska Seifert's bronze compositions create a sturdy minimalist form; inviting associations with the loving face of a mother (as the title suggests). Both works essentially express the existence of the universe in the desire for love and hope for peace.

I Made Jodog with his three-dimensional work titled Yuyu Bang depicts the phenomenon of the universe through simple forms or small creatures that are overlooked or forgotten. Three crabs in red instantly remind us of the transience of human beings in the midst of the oceanic universe with its unpredictable dynamics. This work is also a metaphor of life where humans do not realize their limitations, but instead are carried away by their ambition by using all means to control everything.

I Gede Jaya Putra's three-dimensional work (Berenang dalam Arus Deras) is unique in that it does not merely present seven sculptures as symbolic figures guarding the universe or the environment around us. The two-dimensional work also depicts a guardian figure by creating a self-portrait that presents the ironic reality of Bali today in the scourge of tourism.

There is no literal Segara or Samudra present in the two-dimensional works of Peter Dittmar (Germany) and Brigitte Djie (Netherlands), as well as Ira Adriati (Indonesia). But if we look again and again in depth, we immediately feel the surge of feelings that roll through the waves of color and minimalist composition. The imagined world of the universe suggests enigmatic depth and mystery. Peter Dittmar, like his Color Window calligraphy series, is the fruit of his deep appreciation for the practice of Zen meditation. His work is reminiscent of traditional Japanese painting; emphasizing the simplicity of composition in reaching the essence of things. Similar to haiku poetry, it chants events in simplicity - a kind of attempt to achieve satori, which is instant enlightenment in the style of Zen-Buddhism. It is interesting to juxtapose this with Brigitte Djie's work (Sun and Sea, Source of All Life on Earth), which chooses a composition in the form of a mandala; an iconic form inherited from Tibetan Buddhism as a depiction of the universe. This work conveys the message of the importance of maintaining harmony between humans, the natural environment, and all its inhabitants.

Simplicity of composition is also chosen by Ira Adriati through her works on shibori cloth, paper and acrylic. On the canvas alone is a visual of a children's toy paper boat, with a blue background layered with texture as a reminder of the ocean. To a particular viewer, a boat has multiple meanings; it could be Sinbad's boat that lives in childhood stories; it could also be poet Sapardi Djoko Damono's paper boat that sails the ocean of words, or a song that has been sung since long ago about Nenek Moyangku Pelaut, in line with the title of this work.

Thus the Sea, Segara or Samudra, takes the artist and us on a journey across time and nations. Every work is a meeting; and every meaning emerges as a dialectic between the creator and the viewer.

Regardless of the definitions and theories of its existence, the ocean, the sea, the pasir (Bali), for me is a mysterious existence that exists on earth. Until now, we have not been able to uncover how it came to be. Looking closely into the depths of our hearts, it raises many questions, and gives rise to various imaginations and interpretations. To the naked eye, it is true, it is a liquid substance, a liquid that spills out, expanding to fill the universe, with no known end, "straight without end" accompanied by the rhythm of the waves, further strengthening the mystical impression it creates. "Hamparan Biru" is a visualization of the ocean, sea, and pasir captured with an aesthetic sense that provides a sense of peace in order to balance the dynamics of life and living.

The milky ocean in creation as an idea is like there are endless feelings and thoughts that can dive freely as wide as the ocean. Materially, the sea and ocean form a knitted ecosystem of biota and microorganisms in the water that is intertwined with the coast and islands as a natural landscape. The image of the sea as the framework of the natural unity of the archipelago shows that the dimension of the sea has connected the flow of culture, trade and unity of the archipelago that gives glory to life. For those with a strong sense of sacredness, maritime perceptions seek to explore the immersive spaces of bays, coasts, capes, seas and oceans in a niche of purifying the universe with various noble attributes. Maritime monumentality unites the power of water as the creative force of art demanded by spiritual values about the glorification of human life in harmony with the universe. The peak of harmony will reach a form of surrender to the true essence of life where water becomes the true essence like the story of Bima finding Tirta Pawitra Mahening Suci in the middle of the ocean.

Nature and all its contents are a manifestation of the greatness of God's creation. Including the presence of the sun or solar system at the equator, every day illuminates the earth with its energy, providing life force for all creatures. Meanwhile, Segara for humans is a flowing force that provides life, fertility, vastness, and unlimited beauty. The power of the sun as energy in evoking feelings, resulting in creative expression supported by the flowing energy of beauty and can seed creative ideas in art. Visually, the form revealed is a view of the beach, sea and sky, as well as a traditional boat called jukung. The colors revealed are the basic color tendencies of the objects, namely brown earth, sand, blue sea and bright sunlight. This work explores the power of texture, both real and brushstrokes, that cover the surface of the objects, as a symbol of strength, hard work in grateful and fulfilling life. The shape of the jukung is a symbol of a vehicle to achieve life's goals.

TELUR SEGARA (BIBIT KEHIDU PAN)

Size : 140 X 120
cm

Media : Acrylic
on canvas

Year : 2023

Visualizing Surya and Segara in paintings is a great way to glorify the values of nature, whose capacity has been diminishing lately. Segara is the source of life and the place where marine habitats thrive, so the theme of Segara Eggs is very relevant and put forward to invite every generation to care about Segara. The appearance of the painting "Telur Segara (Seed of Life)" is symbolic, related to signs and meanings. The circle mark as the center is interpreted as an egg containing the dynamic and turbulent seeds of life, which are believed to be still natural and unpolluted. Meanwhile, the yellow color and its distribution emphasize the meaning that purity exists in every living being. The circle of life does not exist in a void, when referring to life in Segara, the dynamics, twists and waves of life are marked with blue which is interpreted as a place that can neutralize bad things into good things. Although life is very winding, full of waves and dynamics, it is hoped that in the end it can reap goodness, peace, tranquility and prosperity (harmony).

I Wayan Mudana

Silakarang, 10 September 1963

After graduating from junior high school, I wanted to go to Paspal High School because I wanted to be a doctor, but unfortunately I was always sick so my dreams were buried. In my uncertain condition, Nyoman Marsa's neighbor asked me, where did you go to school? I replied that I didn't go, all the schools were closed. While at SMSR, I took part in sculpting the building of Taman Mini Indonesia Indah for PT Bintang Gunung Agung. Later, I was assigned to open a leather confectionery business under the name "Twice Collection". At that time, I felt the benefits of my fine arts knowledge, as everything I made received large orders.

Since becoming a lecturer in 1992, my life started from zero, during my time as a lecturer I tried my luck by taking a job at the NICO Sawangan hotel and making a Boma head with a size of 23 meters wide and 30 meters high. Then I continued my Master's Degree in Tourism Studies, whose umbrella of knowledge is economics. After that I continued my doctoral studies in Cultural Studies at Udayana.

THE POWER OF OCTOPUS

Size : 179 X 84 cm

Media : Acrylic on canvas

Year : 2023

"The Power of Octopus" in this case is interpreted as the domination of the power and influence of global capitalism which has an impact on human life, especially in the fields of science and technology, in order to conquer the world. The Octopus animal is the trigger in this creation which is realized in the form of a visual analogy in responding to the current phenomenon of life which is contaminated by the human nature of Rajas and Tamas. Through the embodiment of metaphorical forms, it can represent the idea or concept of an authentic painting work (Authenticity of The Art Work).

TRIDHARMIKA RUPA

Size : 120 X 80 cm

Media : Acrylic on canvas

Year : 2023

Tridharmika Rupa is meant by the sabda bhudi and ahamkara which are also the tri gunadharmas: sattwa, rajah, and tamah, like a sea whose end and base can never be found. This is the case with the existence of the Atman, which to this day cannot be known when it is born and when it dies, just as the crashing of sea waves never ends when it stops, which always repeats itself over and over again. In visual language, I tried to present the tri guna dharma: sattwa, rajah, and tamah in the form of three figures as symbols of the causes of life living in bhuwana alit and bhuwana agung, such as at the bottom of the Ocean, in the work titled "Tridarmika Rupa". The colors shown are symbolic of water, wind, and fire.

PUSER BUMI

Size : 100 X 120 cm

Media : Oil on canvas

Year : 2023

Puser Bumi is a work of painting created from deep contemplation of the Cakra weapon rolling like the wheel of life in the microcosm and macrocosm. Natural ecosystems are getting hotter, water sources are drying up and being eroded by human greed in exploiting nature and its environment. The source of water as the axis of life disappeared on the face of the earth. We must be aware, start replanting protected trees around us, start protecting the environment wherever we are so that it is not polluted by plastic waste which damages the soil ecosystem, don't let it be too late to maintain the natural ecosystem so that it remains sustainable for the survival of our future children and grandchildren. We all must be fully aware of greening the earth, so that the Earth's Center becomes a source of life for nature.

I Nengah Wirakesuma

Tabanan, 21 February 1964

In 1986, he continued his undergraduate studies, Graphic Arts Study Program, studying woodcut printing techniques. ## SPIRIT NGIRING MELASTI

Size : 200 X 120 cm

Media : Mixed media

Year : 2023

This work visualizes the melasti spirit both spiritually, physically and on a scale, a work that visualizes various types of objects such as various types of barong, communities and stakeholders. The visual of a crowd of people walking hand in hand shows the enthusiastic atmosphere of the community in carrying out the Melasti ceremony both physically and spiritually. Physically, people are willing to walk patiently, covering a certain distance and spiritually, walking together strengthens mental calm and tests patience. In terms of strokes and coloring, the strokes displayed look very varied to support the concept of the melasti spirit in the work. As well as for coloring, it displays lively and attractive colors.

I Wayan Kondra

Gianyar, 10. August 1966

I Wayan Kondra was born in Gianyar Bali on 10 August 1966. He studied undergraduate at PSSRD UNUD, completed in 1990. He has been a teaching staff at STSI Denpasar (now ISI Denpasar) since 1992 until now. ## SURYA SEGARA RUPA

Size : 50 X 74 cm

Media : Acrylic on canvas

Year : 2023

Inspired by the morning sun reflected in the ripples of sea waves. The dynamics of water movement and the clarity of morning sunlight provide hope and the energy of life. This painting reflects an idea that combines aspects of nature, culture and the environment in a work of painting. The main idea is to explore the vibrations of the sun's light with the belief in the richness of Balinese culture which is closely related to the sun and sea, as well as exploring the deep relationship between humans and nature. The creative process in making this painting involves the use of acrylic techniques based on a fluid, flowing artistic approach. The sun is an unlimited source of energy, likewise the sea or ocean has vast and deep imagination. The composition of bright shapes and colors with the dynamic movement of water expresses the beauty and warmth of the sun. The philosophical meaning in this painting reflects the cycle of life, human dependence on nature, or the symbolism of the sun and sea in Balinese tradition. This painting reminds us of the importance of protecting nature and environmental sustainability for future generations. Thus, the concept of painting works in this exhibition creates works of art that combine beauty, culture, creativity and deep philosophical meaning in one complex artistic expression.

Macrocosmically, the earth consists of almost 75% water, water is the source of life in this universe, so water needs to be properly maintained, especially free from pollution. Plants are a source that functions as a water absorber and at the same time stores water for environmental humidity, so forests are important to preserve. So that water is a source of life, the key word is to protect the water from all pollution.

Only dead fish follow the flow of the river, reflect on these quotes and examine the current reality regarding the portion of one's presence and the issue of identity as one of the residents in the vortex of tourism and the siege of modernity, namely Krama, the traditional village of Seminyak. The issue of tourism is not a new problem, but after tourism opened post-pandemic, what was interesting was when observing in the Canggu, Seminyak, Legian and Kuta areas, there was an element of contestation in starting the rebuilding process, every road was filled with agents who were ready to polishing tourism in Bali. This condition is a reading of a flowing phenomenon because tourism has indeed become the breath of Bali, or rather something fluid that is uncontrollable and incomprehensible so that it is seen as something that is justified. Examined from ideoplastic elements, the work is inspired by the Bali Bangkit discourse: Post-Pandemic Tourism Recovery, which puts forward the issue of renovating Bali in the new era. The idea of this work is found in the figure of the guardian statue in Bali (Togog) which is believed to be one of the elements of strength to repel evil in Bali. Usually guard statues are present in front of temple entrances and other sacred places. In this work, the guard statue is depicted at one of the entrances to the tourism area, namely Seminyak Village. Examined from physioplastic elements, the work is visualized in 2-dimensional form, namely a painting measuring 100 x 80 cm (2 pcs) with oil paint, enamel and putty on canvas depicting the figure of a guard statue as the main object, but depicted by borrowing a self-portrait which is represented as Bali's current situation, where the real guardians are Village Youth who are able to determine the direction of sustainability of the village. The work is depicted in black and white which is interpreted as the current situation which is not yet conducive and is in a situation full of uncertainty. The road situation in Seminyak is described as still quiet because it is still under repair and is supported by the use of putty on the statue, as if it is still being re-polished and will be finished when it is given a new color. Object 7. The statue on top of the light box represents the situation of improving Balinese culture with various underlying interests.

NINTH DIMENSION

Size : 130 X 130 cm

Media : Acrylic on canvas

Year : 2023

In this "vertical-horizontal" series, I elaborate on the mesis experience. the landscape is in front of the ocean and the perception of meaning towards it. Related to the thematic exhibition.

When I was on the edge of the beach I felt the pulse of another object in it. Feeling sand grass, sea, sky, hills, rocks, has meaning. I felt I recognized what was around me and felt connected to the experiences and memories that marked it, felt part of it. Being on the beach apart from feeling the pulse of the surrounding soul, feels a paradoxical visual landscape. A wide transverse view of a horizontal line where the sky and ocean meet. Hills rise vertically in the distance. Horizontal reminds of existence as a social person, every day communicating with fellow creatures.

Meanwhile, the towering vertical views convey the image of divinity. These two things become keywords to erode unique striking experiences such as: feelings of silence, unique natural associations, color patterns, and personal iconography. Many times enjoying the beauty of the beach is always evocative, like giving psychological therapy. The eyes look everywhere, getting different objects. Horizontal lines, where sky and sea meet, apart from providing an aesthetic, symbolic and imaginative experience. This factual experience is expressed in the "ninth dimension" painting. Captivating, intuition penetrates far into the vast space where the sea meets the ocean. Dark and luminous spaces, imaginative symbolic visual associations are imagined. Bright gold, different dimensional realms of a person's face, clouds, and Mountain.

BALI SUNRISE

Size : 44 X 77 cm

Media : Mix media on canvas

Year : 2023

Bali Sunrise is a work that conveys a message of optimism about the dawn of new light from Balinese art. In the current contemporary era, the freedom to explore traditional stylistics is a sign of the revival of Balinese art. This is visualized through a combination of various "Western" expressive technical strokes with "Balinese" meditative technical strokes such as sigar, nyawi or ngontur. This combination is considered capable of creating a new color for the sustainability of Balinese fine arts.

I'm interested in the small and sometimes unthinkable. When I contemplate the vastness of life in the sea in the meaning of Surya-Segara-Rupa, as the Sun-Sea in Rupa is the sea as a source of life and life, then my imagination appears a number of small animals called crabs or in Balinese called Yuyu. Yuyu is one of the animals whose characteristics vary according to "Crab Mentality". Yuyu is an animal that has claws, walks sideways, is an animal that eats everything or is an omnivore, and often even eats others. This can be metaphorized as the reality of today's pragmatic society. To achieve goals as if in one group, but have the heart to eat their own friends. This causes Yuyu as an imaginative animal to interpret nature, beauty and wildness in reality with vigilance. Yuyu is also an animal that can be consumed, but not all types of yuyu can be consumed because they contain toxins that are difficult to eliminate. Constructing works of art that depart from the theme of Yuyu's life is the formation of visual elements, group compositions in a unified form and meaning of Yuyu's life.

RAGAM BIOTA LAUT

Size : 90 X 120 cm

Media : Mixed media

Year : 2023

The sea is a place of life for various types of marine biota which have artistic and stunning beauty and diversity. This painting visualizes an abstraction of the bustle of the underwater world which is inhabited by various types of living creatures such as plankton, colorful fish and coral reefs. Through the use of dynamic colors, it suggests that the sea holds beauty that we should protect and preserve so that this natural resource can continue to be maintained for the survival of living creatures on earth.

The "keris" is a universal symbol to depict power, strength and identity. Without a "keris" for certain groups of people, their existence would not be strong. Because it is a symbol of "power", it is time to use it for the benefit of "reminding" power that does not respect democracy, that is intolerant, that does not respect the cultural environment, the universal environment. "Power" can empower the earth, sea, sky and universe towards the welfare of mankind and humanity.

PEMULUNG DAN POLITIK

Size : 120 X 100 cm

Media : Oil on canvas

Year : 2020

Today the political campaign begins. You can see the flag of one of the parties (top right) flying on the street corners. As usual, they will give grandiose promises to the people. But the fate of these scavengers has not changed over time. Their lives remain difficult, pulling garbage carts in search of a bite of rice.

The power of Lord Shiva destroys the useless in the world. The power of Lord Shiva is known in Hindu religious beliefs as a smelter, a smelter of things that are no longer considered useful in life in the world, this ability is symbolized by several scenes with wong-wongan motifs, especially the cremation ceremony procession which is very prominent in this painting. Besides that, the events of a mountain eruption and flash floods are also shown, all of which reflect the destruction of life. The meaning of the story: to provide guidance to observers, especially Hindus, who must understand and be aware of the power of Lord Shiva.

Claudia de Britto Pereira Simões

27 September 1949

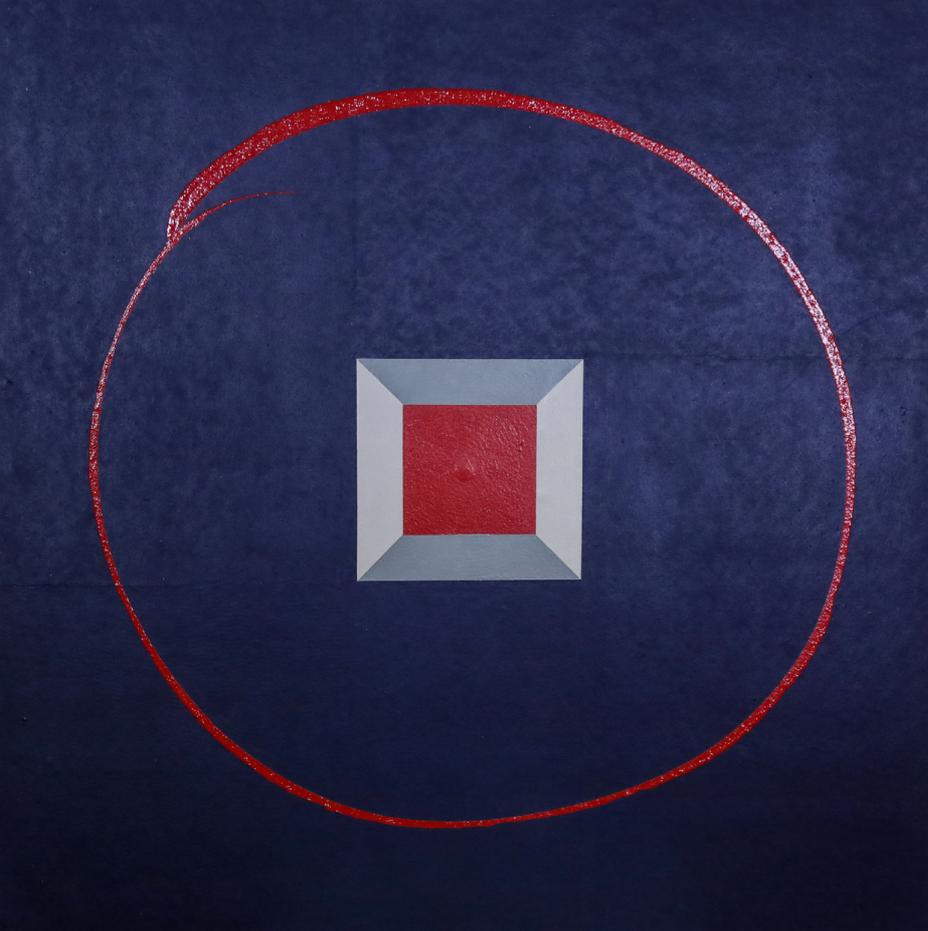

Born in Rio de Janeiro and lives in São Paulo. She is a watercolorist with a scientific background: she studied Physics at the Pontifical Catholic University of São Paulo (PUC-SP) and did a postgraduate degree in Quantum Mechanics at the University of São Paulo (USP). She worked at the Atomic Reactor and the Oceanographic Institute at USP. But, since she was little, she was fascinated by the sea and drawing.

She began her artistic career painting and studying various techniques with great masters. She chose watercolor, her great passion, as a means of expression. With technique and sensitivity, she works on her watercolors, which speak for themselves. In 2012, she received the gold medal from the Brazilian Academy of the Environment at the 9th ABMA Arts Salon. Her refined technique, with precise brushstrokes, in pastel or strong and aggressive colors, colors the white of the paper. Everything to stimulate and sensitize the eyes of those who appreciate the beautiful images.

Abecedário (poetic) of fruits was the first children's literature book illustrated with the artist's watercolors and won the Revela cio Illustrator Award granted by the National Children's and Youth Book Foundation (FNLIJ) in 2014. In the same year, it was among the ten labuti Award finalists, awarded by the Brazilian Book Chamber (CBL), in the Children's or Young People's Book illustration category.

Passionate about waters, seas, rivers, lakes, fogs, clouds, she transports these elements to the canvas with harmony and charm. As Claudia says: she just wants to paint water, with water. And she does it with mastery and rare beauty.

For her, mermaids are beings that enchant and seduce sailors and lovers of the sea and nature. They live in our imagination and captivate us with their song and beauty. "Thinking about this magic, I painted and experienced being a mermaid, because being a mother means wanting to rock our children in the waves of the sea like them." says Claudia.

PROJECTION II

Size : 60 X 60 cm

Media : Oil on canvas

Year : 2009-2010

In my art the rules that I set up for myself play an important role, the reason for this being that within the framework of these rules I can make use of the opportunity of boundless freedom by means of my acquired knowledge and the reception of new inspirations. Since 2007 I have been working on a series whose members are unfolding from one another, the point of departure being four basic elements inspired by the Javanese batik. With the help of these shapes I create colorful and intricate networks which are without any mechanic fixation and are greatly variegated due to the utilization of the infiltrating accident. The networks are placed above one another as intertwining planes. These structural systems can stand on their own ("Faktor" series), but they can establish illusionary spaces as well ("Intro" series) or even contradictory spaces ("Symbion" series). At the same time in this painterly world figural elements may appear too ("Factor-Organic" series).

SUN AND SEA, SOURCE OF ALL LIFE ON EARTH

Size : 30 X 30 cm

Media : Acrylic on canvas with bamboo brush

Year : 2021

The vibrancy of the sun bursts the sea into life, creating humanity and ether, allowing for beauty of flowers to bloom.

Brigitte Djie

Amsterdam, May 1957

Ever since I was a child, I have had an unstoppable urge and passion to create and throughout life, I have done so. As a youngster, I won many competitions with my art (paintings, drawings, textiles, stories, poems) and have created products, trainings, movements in the business world. I have written and published 3 bestselling books and co-written 2 short story books. I am always inspired and drawn in by the sun and the sea; they are the source of all life and symbolise life itself. The vibration of the sun and the sea are what creates and gives energy in the perpetual, spiral and cyclical pattern that is mimicked in all areas and organs in our body and exists in all of nature, that, even though as humans, we tend to forget, we are part of.

Foundry Wittkamp, Germany Elmenhosrt cast/ Model 2 from 3 Height 32 cm on small wooden stand. Bali has a hight and rich tradition for masks. As my carving teachers in MAS/Tarukan told me, how to use every peace of a trunk I cut this out of the last triangel from my first ebony wood. Transported it in my luggage to Germany/Hamburg, where ist was finished and polished. I adore the techniques and ways of carving what means like balinese. And this is the unique word for a peace which has "taksu". Some balinese masks have this oscillating character between face and body. so my intention was as well to transport it into my language, showing a peace of art changing between women body and face mask. The wooden item was requested very soon, so my decision to make bronce casts was choosen. The viewer can see small scratches and marks from wood carving tools, who define the original model.

RASA: SURYA-SAGARA RUPA

Speakers

Prof. Dr. I Wayan Suka Yasa, M.Si.

Dr. Jean Couteau

Surya is the representation of the spiritual forces of akasa [space], bayu [air], and agni [fire], as its energy flows upwards. Sagara, on the other hand, is the representation of the magical forces of apah [liquid] and prethiwi [solid], as its flow is downward. Surya, the Father of the Cosmos, can reverse the upward flow of energy of Sagara, the Mother of the cosmos, and return it downward as universal amerta. That is the cycle of cosmic power called cakrayajna [the sacrificial cycle of the Cosmos]: from His creative work comes yajna, from yajna comes rain, from rain comes food, from food living beings come into being. And living beings cannot live without creative work. According to the wisdom of rwa-bhineda, spiritual energy and magical energy are two primordial entities of the universe characterized by an irreconcilable paradox (duality). Their dynamic synergy gives rise to feelings that then manifest evolutively, materializing into the universe and its various contents. The great element that builds all these various forms is called Panca Mahabhuta. The subtle forms are sound, touch, color-form, taste and smell. These are all manifestations of the three forces of the Mother Cosmos. Then aesthetically, they evoke nine flavors.

Art Performance: KAUK KAUK ILANG NGENAH

Synopsis:

Kauk-kauk ngenah ilang ngenah

Ulapin-ulapin

Tlektekang ri tungtunging irung

Susupang ri tengahing ati

Description:

This performance responds to the exhibition titled "Surya Segara Rupa" as an event to strengthen the innovation and creativity of Tri Dharma Institut Seni Indonesia (ISI) Denpasar. The theme "Surya Segara Rupa" translates the cultural wealth that is closely related to the sun and the sea as a reminder of the importance of protecting nature and environmental sustainability for future generations.

The performance was inspired by a painting entitled Dimensi Sembilan by Sujana Suklu. Staring at the picture plane presented by Suklu, it is 'challenging' to look deep into the meeting area, the horizon. Does it appear? Doesn't it? The space calls for conscientious sensitivity to natural phenomena: the earth, the sea, and its people. What will be passed on to future generations? Like Suklu's drawing field and Surya Segara Rupa's exhibition layout, the performance area is also divided into three parts. The material realm is expressed through the palegongan Sri Sedana; the intuitive realm contemplation; and the immaterial realm in the wishful prayer dance sesanghyangan Ambu.

The use of traditional elements with a contemporary approach is expected to provide more space for interpretation for each individual involved in the process and for the audience. This performance is done collaboratively involving Dance Study Program, Performing Arts Education Study Program, and Music Study Program of the Faculty of Performing Arts ISI Denpasar in collaboration with Gopal Dance Studio, Tabanan.

Happy Watching!
